JLAN Solutions Selected To Participate In Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Business Program

Ronnette Meyers, President and CEO of JLAN Solutions, was recently selected to participate in the Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses national class at Babson College.

The Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses is a highly selective program providing small business owners with a practical business education, opportunities for one-on-one business advising, and ongoing support for alumni. Goldman Sachs also works with local lenders to help provide expanded access to capital for small businesses. Program participants learn through a series of nine course modules that give them hands-on experience with topics such as company financials, negotiations, marketing, and securing financing.

In addition, they receive the tools and professional support they need to develop a strategic and customized business growth plan. To date, the program has served over 7,700 small business owners across all 50 states, and has resulted in immediate and sustained business growth for the alumni of the program. Businesses that complete the program report up to 70% growth in revenues and number of employees, within 2 years.

"We are honored and excited to be chosen to participate in the 10,000 Small Businesses Program. This is our 7th year of business and the JLAN team is ready to start making plans for the next decade. I am looking forward to bringing back what I learn to enhance JLAN's providing management and information technology services to our existing and prospective Federal, local and state government customers." says Meyers.

Meyers will be taking part in the 10,000 Small Businesses Program on-site at Babson College between September and November 2017.
