

JLAN Solutions Awarded Contract with the Environmental Protection Agency

WASHINGTON, DC — JLAN Solutions is pleased to announce a new contract award by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization (OSDBU) to enhance their small business outreach programs.

OSDBU supports the EPA's mission to protect human health and the environment by advocating and advancing the business, regulatory, and environmental compliance concerns of small and disadvantaged businesses.

JLAN will bring its considerable experience in small business contracting and procurement to OSDBU, supporting more effective small business use through outreach approaches, and aligning OSDBU processes with current industry standards.

JLAN will analyze OSDBU's current state, benchmarking against industry best practices, and provide recommendations to support EPA's development of targeted outreach programs, including contracting procedure manuals and resource guides.

"We are excited to provide our world-class program assessments and business process improvement expertise to increase participation of the innovative and creative American small business community. Small business has tackled some of today's most critical environmental challenges with ingenuity and determination," said Ronnette Meyers, JLAN President and CEO.
